Commentary: Booker T & GM Shawn Michaels (HBK)

OPENING MATCH

Carmelo Hayes vs. Stacks

Stacks tries to bully his way through the early minutes, grounding Carmelo with heavy strikes and clubbing offense. Melo fights back with his signature snap precision—springboard clothesline, double-knee gutbuster, and a top-rope lariat that sends Stacks rolling out of the ring. Booker T shouts that Melo is “on that next-level flow, dawg!”

Stacks rallies with a surprise spinebuster for a close two-count, but Hayes counters the second attempt into a Fade Away springboard leg drop. Melo follows with Nothing But Net, getting the three-count.

WINNER: Carmelo Hayes

Melo calls for a mic, wiping sweat from his face.

Carmelo Hayes:

“Tonight... I wanted someone special to witness greatness. Someone whose footsteps I’ve studied, whose blueprint I follow every time I touch this ring. So if you’re in the building... Champ... come join me.”

The crowd explodes. The lights drop. The guitar riff hits.

THE ROCK appears at the top of the stage.

The Performance Center LOSES it.

HBK on commentary: “I can’t believe this... The WWE Champion... on NXT!”

The Rock enters the ring, raises the title, takes in a deafening reaction.

Carmelo Hayes:

“Rock... you inspired a whole generation. Including me. So tonight, I honor your journey... by honoring every man you laid the smackdown on.”

He gestures upward.

From the rafters, banners begin to unroll, each with a single massive name and dramatic spotlight:

Big E

Damian Priest

Kevin Owens

Batista

Chris Jericho

Jey Uso

Brock Lesnar

Jon Moxley

Solo Sikoa

Roman Reigns

Booker T: “Tell me I did NOT just see that...!”

The crowd chants “HOLY S*!”**

The Rock smirks—equal parts flattered and amused—while Melo stands proudly beneath the banners.

Rock raises the mic... but before he can speak, Melo cuts him off:

Carmelo:

“No need to thank me, champ. Tonight... this is all love.”

The Rock gives a slow smile, taps the WWE Title, and exits—never saying a word, letting the silent tension speak for itself.

SEGMENT – ULW Championship Tournament Hype Video

A COMEDIC RETRO-STYLE VIDEO PACKAGE

Dramatic superhero music plays.

The Hurricane, in full green gear, stands heroically between Sabu (who's holding a chair, of course) and Carlito (apple in hand).

Hurricane:

"Gentlemen! Congratulations! You have the distinct honor of competing in the FIRST MATCH of the ULW 48-Man Championship Tournament this Friday on SmackDown!"

Sabu:

"No thank you."

(He walks off-screen.)

Carlito:

(Annoyed) "A 48-man tournament? That's... not cool."

Hurricane:

"You two must consider yourselves LUCKY! For destiny has chosen you to usher in a new era of superheroic competitive greatness!"

Carlito takes a bite of his apple and shrugs.

Sudden hard cut — VHS-style dissolve.

Montage: "The Hurricane's Journey"

Teenage Gregory Helms drawing superhero logos in a notebook.

Clips of early indie matches.

A dramatic reenactment of him opening a battered box he "bought off eBay from Seth Rollins," pulling out the ULW title—with a giant blurred sticker reading: "Warning: Previously... urinated upon."

Hurricane poses with it triumphantly as lightning strikes behind him.

MID-CARD CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH

NXT Women's Championship

Roxanne Perez (c) vs. WWE Hall of Famer Lita

The crowd goes wild for Lita's entrance. HBK: "Roxy's living a dream, but dreams get dangerous in a hurry."

Lita brings the physicality immediately—snap suplex, tilt-a-whirl headscissors, and a moonsault attempt that narrowly misses when Roxanne rolls out.

Roxanne fires back with blistering speed—uppercut, back elbow, double-leg dropkick. Lita catches her with a Twist of Fate, but Roxy reverses the cover into a tight cradle for two.

Lita goes to the top for the moonsault—Roxanne leaps up, cuts her off, and hits a pop-up Code Red from the second rope!

1-2-3!

WINNER & STILL CHAMPION: Roxanne Perez

They share a respectful nod post-match as the crowd cheers.

BACKSTAGE SEGMENT – The NWA Meets NXT

Mr. Murrey walks down a hallway in a sharp suit. He shakes hands with Billy Corgan, who is standing beside a display case.

Murrey opens the case to reveal the NWA World Heavyweight Championship—the "Ten Pounds of Gold."

Corgan smiles and says, "A beautiful piece of history, isn't it?"

Murrey nods.

"History... and opportunity."

No further context. A hint. A seed planted.

The match starts slow and tense—Lumis staring coldly into HBP's soul while the crowd chants "CREEPY!" Booker T: "Man, Dexter gives me the heebie-jeebies, dawg."

HBP uses speed to avoid Lumis' grapples. Lumis repeatedly attempts the Silence submission, but HBP slips out each time.

Mid-match, Lumis hits a running spinebuster and a huge sit-out uranage for a close two-count.

HBP battles back with a flying knee, superkick, and a flipping neckbreaker for another near fall.

Lumis catches him in Silence—the crowd gasps—

HBP runs up the turnbuckle, flips backward with Lumis' grip still on him, and lands on top, pinning Lumis' shoulders while still trapped in the hold!
